

AMANITA PRODUCTS FOUND IN SCHOOLS

School Resource Officer Rapid Visual Guide

MothersAgainstHerbalAbuse.org

What These Products Are

Amanita muscaria edibles appear as chocolates, gummies, candies, cones, and infused snacks. Products use candy-like packaging with psychedelic themes that strongly appeal to youth. These items are not FDA-approved and may impair judgment, coordination, or cognition.

Why SROs Should Be Alert

- Sold in gas stations and vape shops despite safety concerns
- Strong youth appeal (cartoons, bright colors, candy branding)
- Marketed as “legal psychedelics” or “microdose mushrooms”
- Students may carry individual gummies or entire bags
- Reports of confusion, nausea, agitation, and impaired coordination
- Potency varies widely between brands and batches

SRO Response Guidance

- Confiscate & notify administration
- Photograph packaging and document statements
- Send students to nurse if dizzy, confused, or vomiting
- Secure packaging in evidence envelope if impairment suspected
- Notify liaison if quantities suggest distribution

Scan for general information and resources on gas-station and vape-shop drug products.

