

KRATOM PRODUCTS FOUND IN SCHOOLS

School Resource Officer Rapid Visual Guide

MothersAgainstHerbalAbuse.org

What These Products Are

Kratom appears as capsules, shots, gummies, seltzers, and powders. Packaging resembles supplements or drinks, making concealment easy. These products are not FDA-approved.

Why SROs Should Be Alert

- Marketed as “natural/plant-based”
- Sold in gas stations and vape shops
- Forms attractive to youth (gummies/drinks)
- Students may carry capsules, bottles, or pouches
- Branding mimics supplements & beverages
- Risk of misuse, dependency, or withdrawal
- Potency varies widely between brands

SRO Response Guidance

- Confiscate & notify administration
- Photograph packaging and document statements
- Watch for impairment (sedation, dizziness, nausea)
- Refer to nurse if student appears unwell
- Secure packaging in evidence envelope if impairment is suspected
- Notify liaison if large quantities suggest distribution
